South Windsor High School
South Windsor, CT

Treasured Faces & Friends

Through the years SWHS has seen many faces, and has been the foundation of many friendships. The fact that Mark Samsel, Shari Sarvela and Tom Riordan; Linda LeBlanc and Terry Armstrong; Tom Dennis and Greg Clinton were voted best friends does not mean that these are the only friends but an example of the multitude. The final outcome? We are no longer just students passing through the halls of SWHS but the class of "1985" ready to face the world!

Remember When. . .

Remember all those home football games? The sound of the band drum beating with our hearts, or the spirit-filled track team cheering onward? Remember the first day of school walking over the new tile proclaiming our "home"? Remember seeing the banner SENIORS AT LAST and the feeling of power we had inside? Power like Mr. T as portrayed by Stacey Mathewson on Senior Night! We have carried this power throughout the year and we will always remember when we were "king of the jungle."

Images Recollected

Wet dreary Monday mornings always seemed to be the worst when it came to Wapping. Even though Math was not on your schedule this year, the walk to Wapping, because of Computers or Art was still inevitable. Through sunshine, rain, sleet and snow that worn-out path still remains the same.

It's Saturday, the pressure is on, the crowd is tense. Do the faces of Joey, Chris, Leroy, Gary and Peter remind you of anything? Football Season! Could anyone ever forget that Saturday afternoon at Rockville High when South finally has the chance ;to show what they could do. Victory proved to be the word of the day. This game signifies one example of the spirit of South Windsor High.

The Event: To capture the moments of those who just wanna have fun!

Everyone has different ways of just wanting to have fun. Some Seniors have an enjoyable time jumping around the stage in pillowcases. Other Seniors have fun initiating Katie who gets to carry her teddy bear around all day while in her pajamas. Smile Andy, we got you! After all John has been through, he can still give us a smile. While Kelley can take time out from her homework to pose for us.

Keepsakes

Everyone at South Windsor High has their own ideas about what makes our school special. Some people believe that it is the freedom to do what interests them the most. Such as Michelle Lee taking pictures or Karen Pola drawing. Others like Linda, Terry, Liz, Dave and Lori show us that just being able to make people smile can be the most rewarding of all.

A Time Of Change

As seniors we look back on the times we have spent together. We realize in what way each and everyone of us has changed. Maybe it's just a "fashion change" or a different "hair style". Sometimes it's not so easy to see the changes in ourselves or others. It may be that we have matured in our way of thinking and have left our "idols" behind us. Changing is like the passing of seasons. It happens whether we want it to or not. Jackie, like many of us, would like to spend everyday outside enjoying the fresh, cool air but winter will inevitably descend upon us, just like the passing of the years. While we have been here at SWHS everyone of us has changed in some way. May we never forget the way we were then and never fail to appreciate the way we are now!

Rare Moments. . .

We, as Seniors, will never forget the rare moments that we have experienced at SWHS such as decorations on our lockers or cheerleading like Lanae. We will always remember the times when we have gotten together with good friends and achieved that special feeling of closeness. A closeness that only happens when we try new things together, such as what Thomas & Rod are doing. Some Sophomore friends also get together to share a magazine, while Gina finds some time away to do her homework. These are all truly unforgettable moments.

1985

Now that we're seniors
let's propose a toast to all the great memories that we cherish the most

Remember the first day
we came into this school
we were just little sophomores trying hard to be cool

We got pushed around at times we lost all pride
we were even scared
but we took it in stride

as our junior year
rolled around so fast
we studied our hardest to make our knowledge last

our junior prom
brought memories so dear remembering that night
we'll always shed a tear

Now all of our school days
have gone by so fast
now proudly we say
we're seniors at last

We entered the doors
as the ruling class
but to our dismay
those days did soon pass

before we knew it
senior night was here
we initiated the underclassmen
despite all their fear

For our senior reception
La Renaissance was the place where we danced til dawn smile's never leaving our face

finally came the moment
our dream had now come true Graduation day was upon us we'd start our lives a new

Although we're going our separate ways
we know we'll never part we'll always keep a special feeling for friends
deep within our hearts.

-Kelley Esten

In Dedication To . . . Mr. Robert Noyd

Mr. Robert Noyd has dared to be himself, to show us what he genuinely is. He has expressed his teaching in a way we can learn and relate. His jokes and scientific analogies brighten our day as well as aid in our learning. We've had the privilege to know and be influenced by someone whose honesty is overwhelming, a man whose determination to act according to his own beliefs will be an inspiration to us always. He has made us not only recognize our talents and potential, but also realize that to become "King of the Jungle", we must always strive to achieve our goals. All those who have greatly benefited from knowing him will truly miss his encouragement, dedication, sincerity and lastly, all those Little Debbie parties. The Class of 1985 wishes to express their deepest appreciation to Mr. Robert Noyd.

The class of 1985, under the leadership of Kimberly Harris, started the year off with a charge of energy. Kimberly Harris, president and head spirit booster, keeps the class informed by using her wit and enthusiasm. As secretary, Beth Schumacher takes charge of scheduling all class appointments. Without her organization our class could not have such great success with its activities. Thomas Policelli and Salvatore Ricciardone, our treasurers, use their organizational skills to handle the financial aspects of our class.

The class officers do a tremendous amount of work to organize the class activities; however, for greater success, the class elects an executive board. The board consists of the following people: Rachel Glater, magazine drive; Michelle Lee, Senior Night; Lanae Gerber, winter pep rally; Michael Koenig, winter/spring event; Sandy Colaccino, class reception; and Lori Lata, class outing.

. . . that familiar sound which echoes through your head as you roll over and hurl your alarm clock across the room! Maybe it's the high pitched BEEP BEEP BEEP of your digital timex you hear as you hit the snooze bar about 10 times! This irritating sound which we all hear every morning, plays a large part in our everyday life.

As Seniors, we have become amune to this buzzing sound and automatically hit the snooze. That wonderful little button allows us to oversleep just about everyday. The few extra minutes we spend in bed seems like heaven, but when we arrive at school late we receive those unwanted consequences that the snooze button brings.

HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED . . .

Have you ever wondered why so many Seniors are minutes late to their academic endeavors? Well, the major reason is the safari through a jungle of underclassmen. After leaving their lockers the trek begins. Multitudes of underclassmen wander aimlessly praying that this is the correct hall. While this routine takes place, Seniors are left waiting for the hallways to clear. Finally, they stroll to class.

WHERE DO ALL THE SENIORS GO?

The senior hallway, such a popular place, it's a wonder they're able to set a reasonable pace;

In the music room, you can bet, that the hopes for harmonious sounds will always be met;

With the components of the Spectrum, Ensemble and band, they'll always be willing to lend a helping hand;

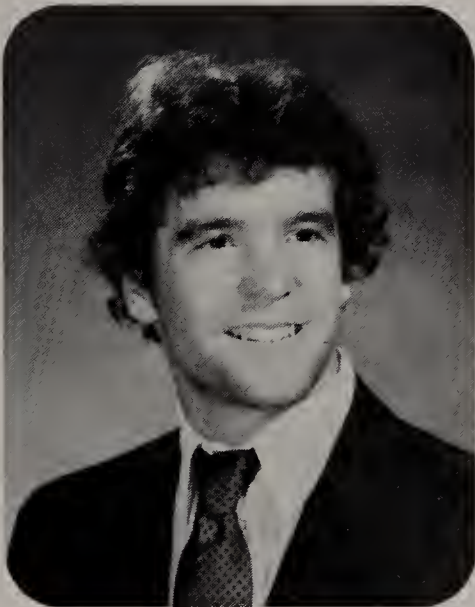

The mighty muscled football players, so talented and few, we know where they spend their nights, in the weightroom, how 'bout you?

Many seniors take their usual walk, to, where else but the courtyard, to smoke, relax and talk.

The Balancing Act

Don't you feel like your whole life is one great big balancing act? School on one hand, and work on the other hand. One of the hardest things students have to deal with is the problem of arranging their time in order to fit all the homework into their schedule, while trying to earn extra money. To add to the commotion, a majority of the students have various other activities, such as interscholastic sports, and interviews with colleges. With all this going on it's a miracle that they ever find the time to be with friends. A successful student is one who is able to balance their time correctly.

THE BROWN BAG

For those of us who opt to "bring our own" we are called the "brown baggers." (Why are lunch bags brown anyway?) The contents of the bag are known to each of us, the amount and variety of food depending on who made our lunch. First there's the sandwich, if Mom made it it's probably nutritious meat and cheese on wheat bread. Dad puts all the week's leftovers between two slices of white bread and cuts it on a diagonal. If I have to make it it's Peanut Butter and Jelly. Next is the potatoe chips, Doritos, or Fritos. After these nutritious foods are consumed then the best part, the dessert, cookies, Oreos or Chips Ahoy are South Windsor's favorites. Devil Dogs and Twinkies are embarassing so we never bring them. Finally we have to wash this all down with milk- the red carton, of course, and the coolest students drink it straight, no straw needed. Finally our brown bags remain nameless. The stigma of a name and homeroom bring back the past days of grammer school and our mothers bringing our forgotten lunch to the office.

Ian Haber

Nothing
by Ian Haber

Nothing smells as sweet as the air on the first day of summer vacation
With the grass, and the flowers and the knowledge that yet another year of school is behind you.

Nothing is more painful than leaving a place that you know and love,
With good friends and good times, irreplaceable both.

They will not be forgotten.

Science had so many memories." We will never forget Mr. Noyd's chemistry concepts (puppy theory, mole tube) and his fond passion for "Little Debbies". Whether it was dropping a rock out the window or throwing chalk across the room we will always keep Mr. White in our hearts. We are destined to remember Mrs. Wirth's unknowns, Mr. Selner's wit, Mrs. Moreno's Friday quizzes or Mr. Morline telling us to take time to smell the roses. Will we ever forget the different quirks and sayings our teachers had? Doubtfully not. Who could forget Mr. B's corny jokes, or Mr. Lazzerini's "Look at my nose"? Mr. Cloutman and his baseball hat, What's he hiding? We will never forget our teachers, and how they inspired us to work hard and got us through the rough times. Whatever your personal memories, may they be ones you'll never forget.

A Night In Heaven

The Junior Prom of 1984 began with the traditional glitter that characterizes the Prom. The elegant occasion of May 19th was held at the Glastonbury Hills Country Club. The evening was highlighted by dancing, eating and selecting the Queen and her court. The music was provided by the band Rumor. A Night In Heaven will always be an evening looked upon with fond memories.

DIANA SCHINDLER

Hello! I'm Diana Schindler from West-Germany. When my parents allowed me to stay for one year with our friends in America, I was very excited. First because it was the first time I was away from home for a whole year and second because I didn't quite know what to expect. As a little girl I thought of America as a land of Indians and cowboys, riding on beautiful horses and living either in a Western city on a big ranch or in a tent. The pictures, my mother brought back from New England and the geography lessons at school finally changed my mind as I compared America with Germany. Now I know that there are a lot of differences between the two countries. The villages and towns in Germany seem to be much smaller because the houses are very close together. The houses are surrounded by small yards, enclosed by a fence, a small wall or a bridge. The relationship between the younger and the older people is more formal than in America. At school I found more differences than anywhere else. I think the school system in Germany is more complicated because instead of different levels at one school we have separate schools and also another kind of grading system. In the beginning I had a hard time with these and a few other changes but whenever I had problems, somebody helped. I want to thank you for being so nice and for helping me.

AKITO YAMAMOTO

Dear everyone in the Class of '85 and everyone in SWHS, This year (1984-1985), stayed in America, will be never forgotten through all my life. It was my first time to live with American family, to go to American high school, and to have really good American friends. When I came here, in August, my English was so poor that I could hardly understand and speak (even now still my English is not getting better). And I worried that I could do well at school. But, in fact, everyone I met at school was very kind, friendly and helpful. I believe that my playing football this year, however that was the first and the last time for me, must be one of my great experiences in America, for I did touchdown, however that was in J.V. game. While I have lived in America, I have thought about my family and my friends seriously and appreciated them for my first time. Though many friends asked me, "Are you missing someone in Japan, like your parents or friends?" and I always answered "No, I'm not." Those are both true, because I have good friends both in Japan and in America. Finally, I would like to say to you "Thank you very much." And also thanks my host family and my little sister, and my friends from other countries. And I hope your futures will be full of luck. And I have to say thank you to all teachers especially Miss Cloutier and Mr. Benford. P.S. When someone come to Japan let me know. My address is: 6-3-19 Higashitushimi, Hoya-City, Tokyo Japan, 202. My telephone number is: 011-81-424-61-1846 (from the U.S.)

KARINA PRIZONT-(18)-Argentina

As an exchange student I had the chance to meet a lot of people and to be a member of a great American family. The biggest difference I found in the U.S. is school, mostly because it was the first time that I could choose the courses I wanted to take. Another difference is that in my country there's no drinking age but of course, when people are allowed to do something, that is when there are no problems. I learned to appreciate the little things of my everyday life at home. I also miss the public transportation that we have (buses, taxis, trains, subways). I think it is very important for the social life. I'd like to thank all the students for being so friendly and the teachers for trying to help me in everything they could. I will always remember South Windsor as a special place.

PATTY GARCIA

My name is Patricia Garcia and I am from Colombia, South America. I am happy to be here. I have gone to different places, and I have known many people. I am living with an American family and that help me to know some American customs. Also I know now how is the American High School and I think it's good because you can choose the subject you want to study. I will never forget my visit to United States.

MARTINA WEISSHUN (16) Hamburg - West Germany

This last year I had the opportunity to attend South Windsor High as a Exchange Student. I met many different people and made nice friends. I learned a lot about your country and also to appreciate the things I left at home. There are many differences between your country and my country. School is less restricted at home than in the U.S.A. but in the "higher school" you also have to take more courses. Yes, there is no drinking age and No the people do not drink all the time. You can't compare the countries or split them up in positive and negative but we certainly learn much from each other. Thank you South Windsor High my friends, teachers and especially my host family that you helped me so much and that you have let me take part in your activities and lives and made a terrific year for me!

The days of dress codes are far gone and the choice of how we dress is ours. On one very special day in December all the seniors don their finest attire. On this day it's easy to be spotted as a Senior "King of the Jungle", on top of the student body. It's great to see those classmates who regularly wear jeans and sneakers in three piece suits, we see them in a different more sophisticated way. Some of the seniors who forgot went home to change (is that an excused early dismissal?) The seniors all have a piece of holly to keep us in the spirit of the season and our Senior Spirits are high.

Field Hockey Clinches the C.C.C.

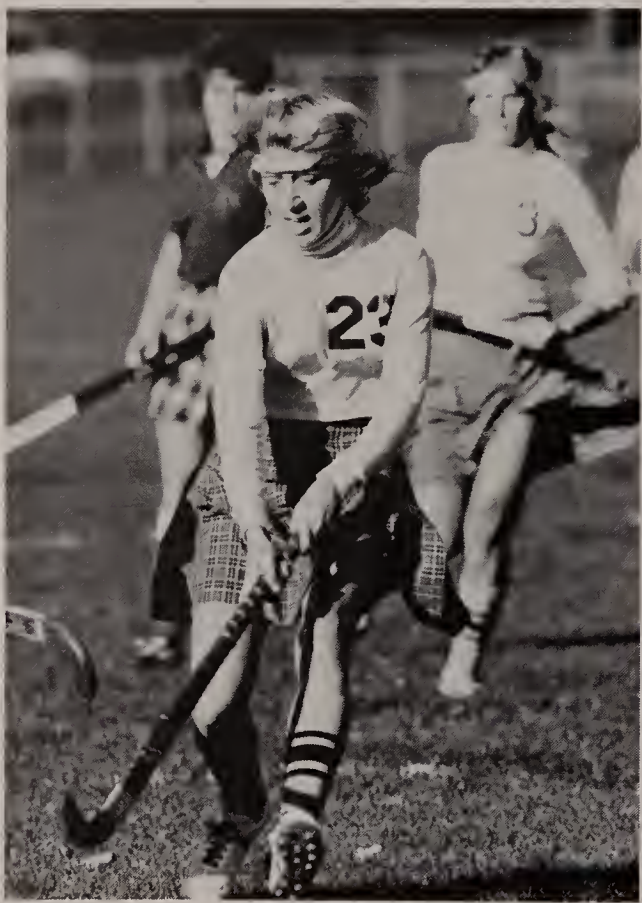

After losing almost a dozen veteran players to the class of 1984, the retiring Bobcats began its long workout to rebuild its awesomely power packed team. Approximately 600 laps, 431 sprints, 295 hills and 409 miles later, the Bobcats emerged victoriously to clinch the first ever C.C.C. East Fieldhockey title.

The conference brought to So. Windsor new challenges such as harder teams, rougher players and tougher games. Schools never played before such as Enfield, Fermi and Windham proved to house the toughest games in the season.

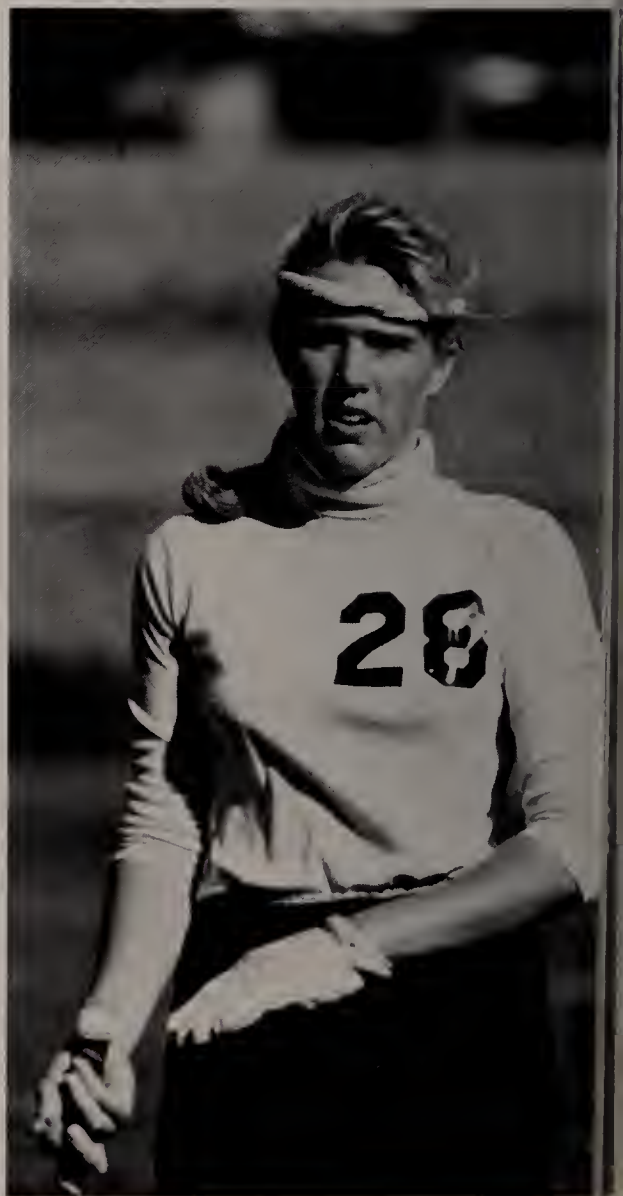

Not only did the long practices help the teams' overall exhibitions but also the confidence of the coaches, Mrs. Cutter and Margaret Brady, help to aid the teams enthusiasm.

Volleyball

It was a season of firsts: the first year in the new conference, the C.C.C; the first year of learning how to count to 3 by saying "1, 2, 2, 3"; and for the first time in South Windsor Volleyball history, the ball was actually caught in a game.

The season provided bigger and tougher opponents yet the Bobcats held their own. Playing well against tough teams like Fermi and Rockville and starting the season by beating Ellington, whom in the past the Bobcats found unbeatable, gave the team a record of ten wins and eight losses—enough to qualify for the State Tournaments. The Volleyball team also supplied the All C.C.C team with two outstanding players.

There were many shared times to be remembered as well: The bus trips with Huey and The Boss, plus John Cougar, the trip to New Milford, seeing the underclassmen gathering male phone numbers, and the very special party given to the Seniors.
